Maryland Medicaid Home and Community-Based Long Term Care Services

2018

MARYLAND Department of Health

This guide describes Medicaid services that are designed to help individuals who are either interested in leaving an institution or who are at risk for institutionalization to remain in their homes. This guide describes the range of home and community-based services available through Medicaid and can help consumers, families, and health care professionals make informed decisions about long-term care services.

Maryland Medicaid offers home and community-based services for:

- Older adults;
- Persons with disabilities; and
- Children with chronic illnesses.

Maryland Medicaid's home and community-based services are offered through the regular Medicaid program and special Medicaid programs called "waivers." Each waiver has different eligibility criteria and target a different population, such as older adults or people with a certain disability.

Who is eligible for waiver services?

Individuals must meet medical, financial, and technical criteria to qualify for Medicaid-funded services. This guide outlines the basic eligibility criteria for each waiver program.

Financial Eligibility

Financial eligibility is based on both income and assets. Certain waiver programs may accept individuals with a different level of income than other traditional Medicaid programs. In these waivers, the monthly income limit in 2018 is $2,250. Assets may not exceed $2,000 or $2,500, depending on eligibility category. The income standard is updated annually.

Income includes, but is not limited to:

- Wages, social security benefits, veteran's benefits, pensions, annuities, self-employment income, and disability benefits.

Assets include, but are not limited to:

- Cash, bank accounts, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and life insurance.

An individual's home value may also be considered when calculating assets.

Individuals should not try to determine eligibility for waiver programs or any other Medical Assistance program based on the information provided in this booklet. Trained Eligibility Case Managers make the final eligibility determination.

Medical Eligibility

Medical and functional needs will be assessed during the application process. For some programs, a trained professional can go to an individual's home to assess health status and need for services.

Technical Eligibility

Most waivers target a specific age group or persons with a particular disability. Maryland Medicaid programs are available only to Maryland residents.

What services are available?

For each program described in this guide, there is a list of services unique to that program. All waiver participants also have access to traditional Medicaid services, including prescription drugs, physician care and hospital services.

Waiver Registry

There is a limit on the total number of participants who can be served in each waiver. When the waiver is at maximum capacity, the waiver will be closed to community applicants. In the event that a waiver has reached maximum capacity, interested persons may place themselves on the Waiver Services Registry.

For the Community Options Waiver, call Maryland Access Point at 1-844-627-5465.

For the Autism Waiver, call 1-866-417-3480.

As spaces in the waiver program reopen, persons on the Registry will be notified in turn.

More Information

See the description for each waiver program in the pages that follow for information on who to contact regarding questions and additional information.
